Dr. John Denstedt graduated from medical school at The University of Western Ontario. He completed his residency in Urology at Western between 1983 and 1987 followed by a fellowship in Endourology under Dr. Ralph Clayman at Washington University in St. Louis. He returned to London and joined the Division of Urology in the Department of Surgery at Western in 1990.

In July 2003 he assumed the role of City-Wide Chair and Chief of the Department of Surgery at The University of Western Ontario, and was re-appointed in 2008 for another 5-year term. Dr. Denstedt also currently serves as the Integrated Senior Medical Director of Surgery Services, at London Health Sciences Centre & St. Joseph's Health Care, London and is currently the Chair of the Canadian Association of Surgical Chairs.

While maintaining an active clinical practice, Dr. Denstedt is an internationally renowned scholar in urology with career accomplishments encompassing over 175 publications; more than 200 guest professorships in countries throughout the world; and numerous honours and awards including being the first Canadian to have won the Gold Cystoscope Award from the American Urological Association (AUA). Dr. Denstedt's research interests include minimally invasive surgery; urolithiasis; biomaterials; and urinary tract infection. With a specific interest in surgical education, he has participated in the development and validation of computer based surgical simulators, which help train the next generation of surgeons.
