LOUIS KAVOUSSI MD, MBA

CHAIRMAN, THE ARTHUR SMITH
INSTITUTE FOR UROLOGY
NORTH SHORE-LONG ISLAND
JEWISH HEALTH SYSTEM

Louis R. Kavoussi, MD, is Chairman of Urology for the North Shore-LIJ Health System and Waldbaum-Gardner Distinguished Professor of Urology at the newly established Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine. He heads the Arthur Smith Institute for Urology, dedicated to the treatment of urological disease through innovative surgical procedures, diagnostics and medical care.

Dr. Kavoussi is a world-renowned surgeon recognized for his expertise in minimally invasive approaches. He has pioneered several new operative techniques including the laparoscopic nephrectomy for kidney cancer and kidney donation. He was also part of the team that performed the first laparoscopic prostate removal for cancer.

Dr. Kavoussi completed his undergraduate degree at Columbia University and medical degree at the State University of New York at Buffalo. He obtained his urologic training at Washington University of St. Louis and directly following residency was named Chief of Urology at the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis. In 1991 he was appointed Assistant Professor at Harvard School of Medicine and Director of Endourology at the Brigham and Women's Hospital. In 1993 he joined the faculty of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine where he was Vice Chairman of Urology and Patrick C. Walsh Distinguished Professor.

In 2006 he joined the North Shore-LIJ Health System as the Chairman of Urology and is the Waldbaum-Gardner Professor of Urologic Surgery at Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine.
